2022 PATEFIELD-GREEN MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

The Lewis and Clark Natural Resources District (LCNRD) provides two $1,000 scholarships to graduating seniors to help further their education in an agricultural or natural resources related field. Award selection is conducted by the LCNRD Board of Directors in April utilizing a ranking system based on the following eligibility criteria:

1. How and where the education will be used
2. Natural resources awareness and preservation
3. Individual initiative
4. Community involvement
5. Pursuit of agriculturally related career and
6. Intent to return to Northeast Nebraska following completion of education.

The scholarship is to be applied towards one year of study in an agriculture or natural resources related field. The Patefield Green Memorial Scholarship is available to students living in the LCNRD (see district map on attached page) who intend to pursue an agricultural or natural resources related career with plans to return to the area and help local communities in conserving and protecting natural resources.

Applicants must complete this form and include a narrative (minimum of 500 words) which should include:

1. Future goals (how and where you intend to use this education after returning to the area)
2. Awareness of natural resources and conservation
3. Activities you have been involved in which pertain to natural resources or agriculture and
4. Community involvement or achievements (examples: FFA, Class Officer, National Honor Society, or any church or civic organizations.)
